

Memento Labs underlines its position in condemning any misuse of hacking technologies and capabilities, having always acted in the market in compliance with all the relevant international laws. With regard to Mr. Jeff Bezos phone hack, Memento Labs strongly declares not to be involved. To the best of Memento Labs knowledge, the former Hacking Team company has never had in its availability the WhatsApp exploit mentioned in FTI Consulting forensic report. Memento Labs reserves its right to defend its reputation by any appropriate legal means against improper misrepresentation of its business practices.
